JULY 2024

NOTES & NEWS

Sit Back and Relax

Long, lazy summer days are made for relaxing—and you shouldn't feel guilty about it. Experts say taking time to rest your body and mind is vital to good health. Regular relaxation can also help you cope with stress related to chronic conditions.

Beat Brain Freeze

If ice-cold summertime treats, such as slushes, milkshakes and ice cream, give you the intense sensation known as brain freeze, here's a quick remedy: Press your tongue firmly against the roof of your mouth. It can help alleviate the headache.

Blink Break

It's hard to tear your gaze away from the excitement unfolding on your favorite TV show, but your eyes may be feeling strained. Experts say when your eyes are focused on a TV or computer screen, you tend to blink less. That causes your eyes to feel tired and dry. Take a break and blink every three or four seconds for about a minute. This gives your eyes a rest and replenishes moisture.

Inside a Thunderstorm

Some find thunderstorms soothing, while others think they're scary. Around 100,000 storms take place in the U.S. every year, mostly in the spring and summer. Storms often happen on hot, humid days, as warm air rises and collides with cold air, creating tension in the atmosphere. Ice particles inside of clouds swirl and crash together, resulting in static electricity that's released in the form of lightning. And did you know that thunder is simply the noise that lightning makes? We just see lightning first since light travels faster than sound.

Special Sauces

For many, a hot dog isn't complete without a squiggly line of ketchup or mustard. Condiments add flavor to a wide variety of foods all over the world. Whet your appetite with these fun facts about some favorite fixin's.

- The term "condiment" originally described pickled or preserved foods, but it now refers to spices, sauces and other mixtures that enhance the flavor of a dish.
- Ketchup is the most popular condiment in America—97% of U.S. households have a bottle in their kitchen at any given time.
- H.J. Heinz started selling ketchup in individual packets in 1968.
- Since mustard is made from ground mustard seeds, the tangy topping contains several nutrients, including protein, calcium and antioxidants.
- The spice turmeric gives mustard its bright yellow color.
- "Mayonnaise" is from the Old French word moyeu, which means "egg yolk," the creamy spread's main ingredient.
- In several European countries, mayo is a more popular dip for french fries than ketchup.
- Adapted from Indian chutney recipes, pickle relish was one of the earliest condiments in North America. Sweet pickle relish remains a favorite hot dog topping.
- Si Racha, a coastal town in Thailand, is believed to be the birthplace of the hot sauce Sriracha. In the U.S., the condiment is often called "rooster sauce" thanks to Huy Fong's popular version, which has an image of a rooster on a bright red bottle.

Stay Healthy by Staying Connected

Research shows that having strong social connections can boost your health. Staying active within your community has been proven to strengthen the immune system, speed recovery from illness, and reduce anxiety and depression.

There are many ways to maintain beneficial social networks, such as staying in touch with former classmates and co-workers, taking part in family traditions and making new memories with friends.

Smiling at another person is one of the simplest ways to connect with them. Initiate conversations. Ask people about their lives, families and hobbies, and actively listen to what they have to say. Giving your full attention to the person you're with enhances the connection, and showing sincere interest in others' lives helps build relationships.

Create a list of friends and family members you want to stay in touch with and make a commitment to call, write, email or get together with those people on a regular basis. Social media and video calls can help you connect with those who live far away.

Expand your social circle by participating in activities in your community, such as book clubs, classes, parties and game nights. Looking forward to special events will boost your spirits, too.

WIT & WISDOM

The XXXIII Olympiad

The 2024 Summer Olympics are scheduled to begin this month in Paris.

A unique opening ceremony is planned for July 26. For the first time, the ceremony will take place outside of a stadium, allowing thousands of spectators to freely attend. Olympic athletes will ride a boat along the Seine, passing famous landmarks such as the Louvre Museum and the Notre-Dame cathedral, and stop in front of the Trocadéro, a complex of gardens and museums across from the Eiffel Tower. The event is intended to not only put the City of Lights on dazzling display, but also open the Games up to a large live audience after the COVID-19 pandemic forced the previous Summer Olympics to be closed to the public.

Around 10,500 athletes from over 200 countries will compete in 45 sports, including the newly added breakdancing (officially referred to as “breaking”). Three of the sports introduced at the Tokyo Olympics will be returning: skateboarding, sport climbing and surfing. The surfing events will take place in Tahiti, the largest island in French Polynesia, which is located in the Pacific Ocean.

Winning an Olympic medal is always a huge honor, and this year, victors also get to take home a piece of French history. Each bronze, silver and gold medal is embedded with iron from the original construction of the Eiffel Tower.
